THEY BRING CHRISTMAS INTO YOUR HEARTS . . . Four happy carolers, made by President W. Jones, present one of the many Christmas scenes this year on the campus.

Record Number Have Registered As Pre-Registration Nears Close

According to Mr. R. P. Foster, registrar, more students registered during the first three days of pre-registration this year than have ever done so before. Pre-registration for the second semester ends today, Dec. 21.

Any student who has not registered by Dec. 21 will have to wait until Jan. 26. Students who have pre-registered may pay their fees anytime before Jan. 26, at the Business Office.

Advisement sheets should be returned immediately to the Registrar's Office.

Turn Books and Pay Fees

After registration booklets have been signed by the advisers, the physical education department, Dean of men or women, and the college nurse, the booklets may be turned in at the Business Office when the students pay their fees. The persons who must give their signatures may be found in the following places: the office of the advisers, Miss Bonnie Magill's office, and Mrs. V. T. Smith's office in the men's gym.

Students who plan to pay their fees Jan. 26 may file their booklets with their advisers, or they may keep them. However, if permits are lost, duplicates will not be issued.

All petitions for excess credit should be filed in the Registrar's Office. Those students who have pre-registered may file their petitions on Saturday, Jan. 26, or not later than Monday, Jan. 28.

Students who have pre-registered but are failing courses this semester should check with their advisers at the end of the semester to make sure a change of program is not necessary. Changes may be necessary since some courses are required as prerequisites for others.

Students who registered for courses numbered 100 or 200 but do not meet the requirements for entry in these courses will not be granted credit at the end of the course. It is the student's responsibility to check with his adviser to make certain that he is eligible to carry these courses.

Registration to Be in Offices

Registration for second semester will be held in the Administration building instead of in the Library. Faculty advisers will be in their offices; the advisers for the Division of Education will be in Room 207; advisers for physical education will be in Room 225 and advisers for industrial arts and engineering will be in Room 122. The permit desk will be in the Registrar's Office.

Changes of program may be made by the students without penalty during the first three weeks of instruction. Thereafter, a fee is assessed for each change excepting withdrawal from a course. The deadline for dropping courses the second semester is Friday, Feb. 15, 1957.

Each Class Gains Two Senate Seats

Students went to the polls Wednesday, Dec. 12, to elect two persons from each class to the Student Senate. The following people were elected: Marilyn O'Connor and Norman Higginbotham, seniors; Gene James and Joyce Ely, juniors; Ed Kavanaugh and Don Moore, sophomores; Homer Williams and Donna Sue Jones, freshmen.

These newly-elected Senate members will replace the senators whose terms have expired, and will take office at the first Senate meeting.

Bands Will Play To Help Boosters

Mr. Earle Moss has organized two pep bands for the coming basketball season. One band is called the Green, and the other, the White band. These bands will play every other home game.

Merry Christmas

Once more the Spirit of Christmas is abroad in our troubled world. My wish for you at this time is that the Spirit of Christmas shall bring to you and yours happiness and a renewed confidence in the value of worthwhile things.

I am proud of you and have confidence in your cooperation in those things that will mean a better college.

Merry Christmas to each one of you.

J. W. Jones,
President

Veterans Contribute Tree for Second Time

Students are admiring the beautiful Christmas Tree in the lower hall of the Administration building, placed there by the Veterans' Club. This is the second year that this organization has decorated a Christmas tree for the enjoyment of all.

The Veterans Club, although not in competition with other organizations on the campus, is sponsoring many worthwhile projects that will improve campus conditions.

The Veterans are now supporting the Student Loan Fund.

Chemistry Department To Have New Addition

Chemistry tables are being built for the new chemistry room by school employees. Robert Seipel is the carpenter in charge. These tables are expected to be finished during Christmas vacation.

There will be space for 27 students working individually and locker space for 98 students. Four sections will use this room. A single row of tables will be against the wall and there will also be two rows with double desks.

Four Students Rate High

At Winfield, Kansas, recently, in competition with students from 48 colleges and universities, the following students received high ratings for NMSC: Larry Brown and Vern Ball, excellent in discussion; Joanne Setzer, excellent in poetry reading preliminaries; and Gloria McConkey, excellent in oratory finals.

Dwight Cooke to Speak For Third Time at College

Dwight Cooke, distinguished foreign correspondent, news analyst, and author, will appear in the College assembly, Monday, January 7, at 10 a.m. This assembly will mark the third appearance for Mr. Cooke at the College. In four years of lecturing he has set up a record of rebooked engagements: more than 92 per cent of the groups before whom he has talked have immediately rebooked him for repeat appearances.

Hansel and Gretel Take Their Bows At Next Assembly

"Hansel and Gretel," the well-known fantasy folk tale that has become a traditional performance for Christmas time, will be given at the annual Christmas assembly, Thursday afternoon, at 2 p.m., in the Administration building auditorium.

Berta Elsmith's adaptation of Englebert Humperdinck's three-act opera "Hansel and Gretel" will be presented through the combined efforts of the departments of music, drama, and physical education of this campus.

Mr. Gilbert Whitney, of the music faculty, is in charge of music for the production. The orchestra is under the direction of Mr. Donald Sandford. Mr. George Hinshaw, of the speech department is in charge of the stage. Scenery will be furnished by the production class of the department of speech under the supervision of Mr. Ralph Fulsom, chairman of the speech department. Mrs. George Maher is in charge of the dance group.

Students taking leads in the production are the following: Charles Elliott as Peter, and broom maker; Sue Whitford as Gertrude, Peter's wife; Della Comer as Hansel, the boy; Barbara Stuber as Gretel, the girl; Winifred Haines as the Cookie Witch; Marilyn Fulton as the Sandman; and Emilee Benedict as the Dewman.

A dance group portraying fourteen angels will present a ballet. A total of approximately seventy-five persons will take part in the production.

Dr. Marcy Bodine Visits Social Science Teachers

Dr. Marcy Bodine, chairman of the Social Science Department at Western Illinois State College at Macomb, visited on the campus on Thursday, December 6th.

He discussed mutual problems with members of the Social Science Division here and was particularly interested in the general education program and major and minor requirements. From here, he planned to go on to visit the University of Kansas City and Warrensburg.

Two decades of unceasing traveling and of interviewing the top leaders of our times have given Mr. Cooke an unparalleled background of experience and objectivity upon which to build his dramatic reports on the challenging world which confronts us in this critical period of modern history.

Cooke Predicts Accurately

Not only reporting and analyzing what is happening now, Dwight Cooke dares project his judgments into the world ahead of us. Each year on the lecture platform he predicts some of the most important developments which will challenge Americans during the year to come. These predictions have been startlingly accurate.

1951: (a full year before the national election) "Truman will not run; Taft cannot be nominated; Stevenson is the only logical Democratic candidate; Eisenhower will be the next president of the United States."

Dwight Cooke

1953: "Formosa cannot successfully invade mainland China; the Korean Truce means victory for the communists in Indo-China."

Lecturer Talks With Leaders

With his headquarters in New York, traveling to Washington once a week when in the United States, lecturing coast to coast, flying to Europe, the Near East, North Africa, the Balkans, south of the border and to every country of Asia, Dwight Cooke talks off the record with the leaders of the world and collects first hand information which enables him to pinpoint the crises areas.

Brilliantly analyzing where we stand and where we are going, Mr. Cooke combines frank and forthright commentation with vivid human interest reporting. His traveling, writing and radio-TV schedule permit only a limited number of lecture engagements.

Students' Condition Continues to Improve

The condition of two students who were injured in a two-car collision when returning to school from the Thanksgiving holiday continues to improve. Both students, who are seniors, are still confined to their beds in St. Mary's Hospital at Nebraska City, Nebraska.

William Carolus is expected to be dismissed soon. The confinement period of Paul Fore is still indefinite. Both students suffered shock and cuts in the mishap. Paul also received a broken arm.

SHOULD WE OR SHOULDN'T WE? . . . Is the question Della Comer and Barbara Stuber ask themselves as Winifred Haines urges them to enter the Gingerbread House in the forthcoming production of Hansel and Gretel.

JOLLY OLD ST. NICK . . .
brightens the pre-Christmas days as he stands in the halls of Horace Mann.

On Christmas

Oh, Christmas is a merry time,
And mixed with holy word and chime.
But—
Who is this boy, alone and sad,
Without a Santa or a Dad?
Who is that lady near four score,
That may a Christmas see no more?
Who is the woman, old and gray,
But with a heart yet young and gay?
Who are these people left forlorn—
And on the day that Christ was born?

Little Wooden Carolers

Made by Dr. Jones, Proclaim Happy Holiday to Passers-By Santa's famed Christmas workshop at the North Pole seldom turns out artistic house decorations comparable to those made by Dr. J. W. Jones, president of the College. This year, Dr. Jones has arranged four carolers on the railing of the south porch of his home.

The choir boys, about three and one-half feet tall, are dressed in red robes with white surplices, and each holds his book of carols. Like the small boys they represent, they reveal a suggestion of mischief behind the almost angelic poise they exhibit.

On each side of the group are three candles of graduated size, striped with reflecting tape. Underneath are arranged evergreens, wound with blue Christmas lights. Snow, recently fallen, seems a fitting part of the picture.

At night, when lights are focused on them, the carolers appear especially joyous.

Dr. Jones also created the jovial Santa who, carrying a lighted lantern in one uplifted hand, is standing in the entrance hall at Horace Mann, as well as groups of snowman figures, used as decor at the all-school ball, and the shadow box in his office, with its varying treatment of the Christmas theme.

That the President borrowed Tom Sawyer's technique in getting some of the figures painted is questioned. He gives credit to several friends for moral support, but insists that he did most of the work to prove to those doubting Thomases that he could finish the figures before the holiday season.

The decorations made two years ago—Santa's sleigh and the reindeer—have again been used on the campus, too. Dr. Jones asserts that all his handiwork is made for fun, his own, and those who see it. He feels repaid if his exertions make a happier Christmas for those on the campus.

Comes Your Christmas . . .

Christmas as currently observed is a complex of world religions. It reflects almost every phase of thought and feeling from crude magic and superstition to the reasoning mysticism of Saint Bernard, from the mere delight in physical indulgence to the exquisite spirituality of Saint Francis.

Mystic and materialistic, learned and simple, noble and peasant, all have found something upon which they might lay hold. Our Christmas of today is a Nile and an Amazon, her tributaries flowing in from every side, from Oriental religion, from Greek and Roman civilization, from Celtic, Teutonic, Slavic, and probably pre-Aryan societies, all mingling their waters into one, so that in the end one cannot be distinguished from the other in this great ocean of custom and beliefs.

At no other time is so much made of children, and because Christmas is their feast, its luster continues unabated in an age where dogmatic Christianity has largely lost its hold and laughs at the pagan superstitions of its forefathers.

Christmas is the feast of the beginning and not the end; of happy childhood, and a new sparkle in once dull eyes; the Christmas idea of the immortal Babe renewing weary stained humanity. It blends with the thought of the New Year, with its hopes of promise, laid in the cradle of time.

—Bill Morse.

Air Reserve Unit May Be Organized

Plans are being made to organize an Air Force Reserve flight at Maryville. This flight is to be non-commissioned officers' training course in which the airman must have a rating of Airman First Class or higher.

Although this course is primarily for former Air Force personnel, ex-Navy personnel may come into the program if their specialty can be used by the Air Force.

Two to three meetings are to be attended each month, during Tuesday evenings, beginning at 8 p.m. A full day's base pay is given for each meeting attended. Also, fifteen days are required every year for active duty on an Air Force base, during which the airman will be awarded full pay for this period. One may apply to serve his active duty at the time of year which is most convenient for him.

Promotions are based on the point system in which one point is given for every meeting attended. Other methods also exist to acquire additional points.

Anyone interested may come to general training meetings at the Armory on Monday evenings at 8 p.m. or write to S/Sgt. Raymond Demingus, 9725 Air Reserve Squadron, U. S. Post Office and Court House, St. Joseph, Missouri.

The Stroller . . .

The new buzzer system in Residence Hall, although not completed, is in working order. Some of the girls say it is startling to have one's buzzer ring after all these weeks of silence.

Peggy Lockridge holds the dubious honor of being the first person to fall on the slippery snow. She won the title with a flying shoulder block to the ground.

Foreign students on the campus often encounter new and perplexing problems. Edith Eckhoff, freshman from the Canal Zone, has one. Her bed falls in! On numerous occasions, Edith has had to call for the assistance of her house-mates to repair her dismantled bed.

As Christmas cards begin to roll in, the campus mailboxes are filled to overflowing.

Just two more days and the students and faculty will have a well-earned vacation. Each will go his way to spend the holiday with family and friends.

Enjoy the holiday and its festivities, keeping in mind the purpose for this celebration. Merry Christmas!

Bearcats and Bulldogs to Clash January

League Champs Hope to Achieve Conference Crown

By Dave Hansen

Opening their MIAA Conference play here Friday, January 4, the Bearcats take on the Kirksville Bulldogs in a cage battle that is sure to be a thriller. The men of Coach Bob Gregory will be out to boost the number in the 1956 win column, as well as to start the conference play off with a win. Last year the Bulldogs succeeded in taking both league games from the Bearcats by scores of 87-72 and 80-70. In fact, the last time the Bearcats won a game from Kirksville was back in 1951, and then by only one point 57-56.

The Bulldogs, from all reports, have a lot of height to cope with. With better than ten men over 6'4" on the squad, including two men who tower at 6'8", the Bulldogs can be expected to give our boys a rough battle clearing the boards.

Must Brake Bulldogs

If the Bearcats are to win, it appears evident that they will have to put the brakes on the Bulldog scoring leaders. Bill Ausmus of Kirksville, a two year letterman, leads all the MIAA scoring so far this year with an average of 25 points per game, and he is closely followed by his teammate, Delbert Crafton, who is averaging 20 points per tilt.

Kirksville will also be out to start league play with a win that might start the way to a third straight MIAA Conference crown. Coached by Boyd King, a graduate of Kirksville, and assisted by Ken Gardner, another former Bulldog athlete, the Bulldogs have had 9-1 conference records for the last two years.

Partridge and Jackson Help

The Bearcats have tasted both defeat and victory this year in non-conference games, including the Jewell tournament, and it remains to be seen just what result they will have in the MIAA. The two boys from Horace Mann, Partridge and Jackson, can give the 'Cats a considerable boost this year. Partridge went almost scoreless in the first two games against Washburn and Pittsburg, but in the Jewell tourney and in the return game with Washburn, he showed that he has the ability to pour in the points. Leland Jackson, with his 6'6" frame can do a lot to help against the big fellows under the hoop. Coach Gregory can always count upon his stalwarts, Ed Kavanaugh, Dick Phillips, Marland Ray, and Bob Alcorn to give him a balanced attack. Kavanaugh can be switched in under the boards to help hold down the giants, and he can always be counted upon to take his share of the rebounds.

If the Bearcats can play good steady ball all night long, and are given a decent share of the "breaks" that are always present, Coach Gregory can almost look forward to a good season. One way to start would be to come out on top in the game against Kirksville the fourth.

Jack McCracken Is Ill In Denver Hospital

Jumpin' Jack McCracken, former all-American basketball star at Northwest Missouri State, is ill in St. Joseph's Hospital in Denver, Colorado. Letters and cards from friends would be welcomed by McCracken.

McCracken played center on the 1931-32 NWMSO cage team that finished the season in second place nationally. This team, which produced several all-Americans, was coached by Hank Iba, who is head cage coach at Oklahoma A & M.

He played A. A. U. ball for over 13 years and later coached the Phillips Oilers team. McCracken was recently named to the Helm's Basketball Hall of Fame. The plaque presented to him is in the College trophy case in the gym.

Random Shots . . .

The Maryville College Bearcats' cage team has had a pleasant change of pace, winning four straight games after losing their first three starts. The team beat Detroit Tech and Grace-land in the William Jewell Tournament to win consolation honors after losing their first game to Oklahoma Baptist. The 'Cats then returned home to whip Washburn Tuesday night in a 67-64 thriller that had everyone squirming in his seat at the finish. Ron Partridge came through with a clutch basket and Marland Ray sank two vital free throws in the closing minutes to put the game on ice for the Bearcats.

The "B" team lost its second game of the season in the preliminary game Tuesday night as Tarkio won 66-65. Missed free throws were again the downfall of the "Little" Bearcats.

After six games, Bob Alcorn is leading the Bearcat scorers with 85 points scored for an average of 14.2 points per game. Close behind is Marland Ray who has canned 82 points for an average of 13.7 per game. Dick Phillips, Ed Kavanaugh, and Jim Sharp have scored 56, 52, and 50 points, respectively.

The Bearcats will try to continue their winning streak as they swing into a road trip through Iowa and Illinois during the Christmas holidays. The first game is with Iowa Teachers on Dec. 19, followed by games with Coe College of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and Northern Illinois at DeKalb, Illinois. Let's hope they can keep winning.

Several members of the track squad have been working out already in an effort to get ready for the coming track season.

MERRY CHRISTMAS, EVERYBODY! See you next year.

Bearcats Whip Pitt Gorillas; Winning Streak Moves to Four

The Bearcats did it! Helped along by free throws and the sharp shooting of Bob Alcorn and Dick Phillips, the men of Coach Bob Gregory rewarded the home fans Friday night with a win over Pittsburg State College by the score of 90-82. The Gorillas had previously walloped the Bearcats at Pittsburg by a score of 98-77.

Again it was much the same story as it has been in the previous games with Alcorn, Kavanaugh, and Phillips leading the scoring, drawing 24, 15, and 21 points, respectively. Even though playing with an injured hand, Bob Alcorn hit a perfect 100 per cent on free throws, hitting on 14 out of 14.

Again Kavanaugh showed his tremendous scrap and fighting spirit out on the floor, grabbing many rebounds and drawing fouls in the process from the opposing players.

The game was a rough and tumble battle from the first jump, as was evidenced by the many fouls called. Four of Pittsburg's men fouled out in the second half along with the Bearcats' Don Eklund.

Ed Neely continued to be Pitt's big gun, picking up some 18 points. Several times during the evening the game was all tied up, but when the Gorillas started fouling out, the Bearcats were able to pull ahead.

Playing a good brand of ball and showing some good shooting skill, the 'Cats won a victory that they truly deserved.

Bearcats to Tangle With Iowa Colleges

Tonight the College basketball squad travels to Cedar Falls, Iowa, for a cage tussel with the Iowa State Teachers College hoopsters. This is the first meeting of the two teams and not too much advance information is known about the Teachers. ISTC is a large school and usually has a fair basketball team.

Another Iowa college team that the Bearcats meet this week is that of Coe College, Cedar Rapids, Iowa. The Bearcats played neither team last year, and again not much is known of the Coe team. The Coe game will be played at Coe, Friday evening, December 21.

Revengeful Cagers Win Home Opener From Washburn U.

Revengeing an earlier defeat at the hands of Washburn University, the Bearcats turned the tables on the cagers from Kansas and won their first home game of the season on December 11, when they fought down to the last second to defeat Washburn 67-64 before a full house in the men's gym. With almost deadly accuracy at the free throw line, the men of Coach Bob Gregory cashed in on 35 gift shots to stop the fast moving Washburn team led by guard John Darr.

For the Bearcats, it was an all-round victory with scoring honors going to Marland Ray who hit for 19 points. Other men who hit more than ten counters were Alcorn, Partridge, and Phillips. The Bearcat game was characterized by the savage rebounding of Ed "Butch" Kavanaugh and the torrid free throwing of Marland Ray and Ron Partridge. Even though Kavanaugh was working the boards, the 'Cats had trouble getting their share of the rebounds all night long.

Again, as was the case at Topeka, the man who about tamed the Bearcats was Washburn's John Darr, who seemed to be all over the floor at once. Darr picked up 28 points during the evening, 22 of them in the second half, but a technical foul against Washburn coupled with Partridge's basket with 40 seconds remaining spelled the difference between victory and defeat for Gregory's men.

At the close of the program, the Intramural Commission plans to have a free contest. Then, activities in volleyball, badminton, swimming, and softball in recess intervals will get underway. Added attraction to the well-ed program is wrestling participation "can easily be an annual activity."
